My scalp is red after my FUE procedure – is this normal?

After Hair Transplant · https://gethair.co.uk/faqs/red-scalp-after-hair-transplant/

This is normal and happens in every case.
This is mainly happens due to the tension on scalp.
At the end of the day, we have worked on your skin and opened many holes, therefore a skin reaction at the beginning is normal.

This will fade gradually in time, and may take couple of weeks only.
